

2012 RACING FORMAT

All races will be points night except the first race of the year on April 7th. April 7th will run the same format, USAC race, QMA race and regional dates. Novice will run 1st race and then qualify all other classes. Top 4 in Jr. And top 5 in Sr. Classes go to the A-main all other will run progressive heats. After qualifying is complete novice will run the second heat. Lower mains run and novice will run again to start the features. Novice will not run for points and will place 1-3 in every heat.

Line up will follow regional and national line up. There will be NO changes of the line up for any reason. Be prepared if you decide to run back to back classes. Combining classes because of number of cars in a class is up to the race director.

POINTS

Points as follows, Jr. 1st place 8 points, 2nd place 7 points etc. In the event there are 9 cars in the feature 9th place will receive ½ point. Sr. Classes 1st place 10 points, 2nd place 9 points, etc. In the event there are 11 cars in the feature 11th place will receive ½ point. In the event the X car makes the field the car that fell out will receive ½ point.

Attempt to race points. 5 points will be awarded to all drivers who attempt to race their lower main race or feature race. You may take a no time for qualifying but must attempt to start your lower main or feature race. Driver must be present and car must be in running condition and attempt to start the race to receive the 5 points. No refunds will be made if car doesn't start the race.